LaForce, LLC, headquartered in Green Bay, Wisconsin, is a leading provider of commercial doors, door frames, hardware, and building specialties throughout the United States and beyond. The company manufactures custom hollow metal doors & frames and distributes locks associated with commercial hardware and building specialties, including Baldwin levers, knobs, handle sets, and bath hardware. LaForce also offers extensive experience providing security systems for large and small businesses. Such as healthcare, K-12 education, colleges and universities, public buildings, apartment buildings, commercial construction, and more. Working together as a team known as "Electronic Security Systems powered by LaForce," the company's security services have continuously evolved; most recently, LaForce acquired Electronic Security Systems (ESS). You can be confident that our security team is second to none.
